TONOPAH IS IN GAME TO STAY

Manager Mike Riley Says He Will Make It Fight Center of Country.

(Special to The Herald.)
Tonopah, Dec. 3.—Tonopah's appearance on the pugilistic map as the holding site of a world's championship fight, has given the country another fight promoter who promised to at least rival, and probably eclipse, Tex Rickard, the man who made Goldfield famous. This new impresario of the game of fists is Mike Riley, manager of the Casino Athletic Club of Tonopah, the man on whom the success of the coming New Year's Day fight between Kid Herman and Joe Gans is dependent.

"Riley has been acting in a managerial capacity for dozens of big fights, but the handling of the Gans-Herman contest is about the greatest thing that he has tackled although he has handled many smaller fights. In speaking of his object in bringing into the game, Riley said: 'I am in the fight game and nothing appeals to me quite as strongly as does a good, clean boxing match between two well-trained athletes. I saw from the Goldfield fight that Nevada is the natural center for holding fights in the future, so I decided to break in The Gans-Herman fight is the first, but will not be the last, affair of the kind that I will pull off here in Tonopah. Our club is putting a big sum of money into the arena and we are sure that it will be the finest building of the kind in the country. We are building permanently and as fast as we get one fight off our hands we will make another match. I figure that Tonopah can hold about three or four world's championship contests each year and make them all successes. I am rickering at present for a match in the spring and later on may be able to announce a match that will astonish the sporting public.'"

"For the present we will bend all our energies toward making the Gans-Herman fight a financial success. As already it is a great success from the standpoint of being the best match in the lightweight division, despite the fact that certain people, ignorant of Herman's great fighting qualities, are trying to belittle the match. My advice to the sporting public is to look out for a surprise. Every one knows Gans, but let me tell you that Herman is the one man in the business who can take the champion's measure if it is to be taken."

BOULDER'S PROSPECTS.

Already Claiming Next Year's Football Championship.

Boulder, Colo., Dec. 3.—From the looks of things the University of Colorado football team should stand the best chance to win the Colorado Rocky Mountain championship in 1907, as only one man will be lost from the team that this year lost only to Colorado college. Rocky Mountain line will complete his four years, and his place is already as good as filled by Weiner, who has this year been availed at either center or fullback, and so can easily be used at guard next year. This will give the Colorado coach the advantage of starting the season with the best results received from the freshman class and the experience gained by the backs this year he should be able to develop a back field second to none in the state, while the line this year was undoubtedly the strongest in the state. So the prospect of the University of Colorado wrestling the three-year championship from the School of Mines next year are exceedingly bright.

ROLLER SKATERS TO MEET.

Arrangements are now under way for a skating race next Friday evening between Manager Colson of the Auditorium and Fred Ham of Ogden. Colson recently issued a challenge to meet any man in the state for a race from one to five miles and the Ogden man accepted. The Ogden man desires that the match be best two out of three, one race to be run in Salt Lake, one in Ogden and the third to be decided upon later. This will probably be done.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM DISBANES.

It was announced at High school yesterday that the team would play no more games this season and that the boys had all quit training. While this year has not been as successful for the red and black as a majority of those in the past, it leaves the team with bright prospects for next season. The green talent of this season's team has had one year's experience and will be veterans when it comes time to whip next year's team in shape. Next year's captain will be elected at the annual banquet of the team which shortly takes place.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Terry McGovern, the prize fighter, had a moment's talk with the president today. He was accompanied to the White House by his private secretary and called merely to pay his respects.

U. CLASS TEAMS TO MEET

Football Championship of School to Be Decided Among Them.

The annual class football series at the university will begin next week. All of the classes held football meetings yesterday and two of them had teams out practicing. There is some talk among the juniors and the seniors of abolishing football and starting a class basketball series. This plan, however, does not meet with the approval of the lower classes. The classes contest each year for the possession of a silver loving cup, which is now held by the class of '07. The sophomores met yesterday and accepted the resignation of Joe Hennesey as captain on the ground that he was a "U" man and not eligible. Ray Needham was elected to captain the team in his stead. The freshmen chose George Roberts, a crack high school player, to captain their squad some time ago. The other classes have not yet elected officials, but had men out for practice. There was some trouble over the eligibility question, which will be definitely settled by the athletic council and representatives from all classes. All "U" men have been barred and no one is allowed over prohibiting those from playing who made the football squad this year or played in any of the big college games. If none of the other classes consent to the series, the freshmen and the sophomores will fight it out among themselves for the possession of the cup.

OFFER FOR RETURN FIGHT

Tex Rickard Makes Bid of $40,000 for Another Nelson-Gans Fight.

New York, Dec. 3.—"I will give a $40,000 purse for another battle at Goldfield between Joe Gans and Battling Nelson."

This was the introductory statement of Tex Rickard, the man who made himself the most famous promoter of fights in the world by bringing Nelson and Gans to a battle, when he landed on Broadway last night.

"I didn't come here to tell you fellows that," he went on to the newspaper men who nailed him in a "flash alley" cafe. "I came here on mining business, but that goes to an exchange."

For another battle between the two greatest lightweights in the world. "No, I don't think there is any immediate prospect of his being accepted. There is a strong desire for another battle between these two men in Goldfield. But there is a strong desire of Nolan and his methods out there. I am afraid that I would have to insist that Nelson would have to break away from his manager for at least that battle."

Rickard also offered a good purse for a bout between Tommy Burns and Mike Schreck.

MORLEY CALLED TO TIME

Man Who Tried to Break Coast League Sued by Stockholders.

Los Angeles, Dec. 3.—An echo of the troubles of the Pacific Coast baseball league of the past season was heard today in the superior court, when two stockholders of the former Los Angeles club brought suit on behalf of the club against the former manager, James J. Morley, for $35,000, the amount of loss, which, it is claimed, the club sustained at his hands last season. Directors J. J. Brink and Al. Leavy are also made defendants in the action. It is charged that Morley caused this loss by forfeiting the franchise of the local club and also by rescinding contracts with sixteen players, all of which it is averred, was done without the consent of the board of directors. The Los Angeles baseball club was incorporated for $100,000 and divided into 1,000 shares. Stephens held twenty shares and Edwards ninety-five.

GOOD BET TO COPPER.

A recent dispatch from Chicago says: According to advices, Silvey Perretti, the manager of Hugo Kelly, the latter is soon to be matched to fight in Salt Lake City with Jack Sullivan, the New England middleweight. Billy Gibson, the matchmaker of the club there, made the offer and Perretti accepted. Sullivan, it is expected, will agree at once.

CUTLER IS CHAMPION.

New York, Dec. 3.—Albert C. Cutler of Boston proved his superiority in the short-stroke billiard class tonight by defeating Harry Cling of Philadelphia. The deciding game for the American 152 championship by a score of 400 to 230. Cutler averaged 13 to 30, his opponent 7 to 30.

OFFICE SEEKING THE MAN

British Government Looking for Diplomat to Fill the Vacancy at Washington.

London, Dec. 3.—The government authorities continue actively to canvass the field of available candidates for the post of ambassador at Washington, with the evident desire to make the appointment before March 4 in order to permit the new ambassador to meet American public men before the adjournment of the present congress.

While no determination has yet been reached, the officials are making considerable progress in eliminating the possible candidates and thus narrowing the number of names under consideration. Among those eliminated is Mr. Spring-Rice, formerly secretary to the embassy at Washington and now British minister to Persia, and Gerard Lowther, formerly secretary of the Washington embassy and now minister of Great Britain at Tangier, who was not spared from their present positions owing to the prevailing conditions in those countries.

Among those being considered are Sir Maurice DeBunsen, now minister at Madrid and formerly minister at Lisbon; Lord Selkirk, for many years permanent under secretary of state for foreign affairs, and who succeeded the late Lord Pauncefoot at the foreign office, and Sir John Carst, ex-consul general, under secretary of the treasury. Lord Sanderson's age (he was born in 1841), and his failing eyesight, however, render him unavailable.

CONFESSION OF A RIOTER

Albert Young Expects Prison Sentence for Part He Took in Chicago Strike.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Albert Young, the former president of the Teamsters' union, and the present head of the United Teamsters of America, was again called to court today when he was charged with conspiracy to defraud of Cornelius P. Shea, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, was resumed.

"Do you remember an occurrence that took place during the teamsters' strike in 1906, near the Washington street tunnel?" asked Assistant State's Attorney Miller.

"Who was there at the time?" "Jerry McCarthy, business agent of the 'Truck Drivers' union, and myself."

"Did you happen there?" "I saw a man hit a driver employed by Franklin MacVeagh & Co. and knock him down. When the man got up I hit him myself."

Young remained on the stand the entire day and will continue tomorrow. On cross-examination he testified that in turning state's evidence there was no personal enmity against Shea. Young declared that he had pleaded guilty because he believed he had not been treated fairly.

"Do you expect to go to the state penitentiary as a result of your confession?" Young was asked on cross-examination. He promptly replied: "Yes, sir."

FAIRBANK ASKS DAMAGES

Massachusetts Man Brings Suit as Result of Charges During the Recent Campaign.

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 3.—Damages to the amount of $50,000 each are sought by Wilson E. Fairbank, the state exposition commissioner, who filed papers today in the superior court for civil action against District Attorney John B. Moran of Suffolk county and James N. Perkins, who was the secretary of the Massachusetts commission to the Lewis and Clark exposition. The plaintiff alleges slander. Mr. Fairbank charges that District Attorney Moran, during a campaign speech at Somerville recently, accused him of theft and forgery in connection with the expenditure of the state appropriation to the Oregon exposition. Against Perkins it is alleged that the defendant, in the presence of Governor Gull and others at the state house, accused the plaintiff of forgery. At a recent meeting of the executive council in Boston the accounts of Commissioner Fairbank were approved and the commissioner himself was exonerated on charges of misconduct.

AMUSEMENTS

It is a difficult matter to pick the star at the Orpheum in this week's bill, but one is chosen, it must be Augusta Glose, whose clever songs and imitations win repeated encores from the audience. Miss Glose brings to the stage a freshness and originality seldom seen in the vaudeville artist, and adds to her remarkable talents a goodly share of comeliness. Her imitation of a child's singing was altogether admirable.

The young Max Millian, the violin virtuoso, was all that has been claimed for him, and much more than the audience expected. His rendition of "Traumeri" was sweetly beautiful, and he put a fire and spirit into both the Spanish dance and the Gipsy air that showed a great deal of temperament. The accompaniments of his sister, an exceedingly youthful girl, were well up to the work of the violinist.

Two clever stunts are those done by the comedy conjurers and the hoop rolling of the two Rinaldos. Neither specialty is exactly new, but everything was well done, and some really difficult feats were performed. The closing number was the "One Night Stand in Minstrelsy," by the three Leightons and it was good of its kind, although not exciting. Two fine kinodrome shows and the songs by the dramatic soprano, Eugenie Barker, fill a bill which is altogether good and well worth seeing.

The bill will be given all week. There will be a matinee today.

"The College Widow." George Ade's delightful comedy, comes to the Salt Lake theatre tonight for a brief engagement. The play is one of Ade's best and proved exceedingly popular here last year.

"The Sign of the Cross" comes to the theatre next Monday night. The sale opens Friday.

"The Little Minister" was given before another big audience at the Lyric last evening.

The gallery of stage thieves—Raffles, Leah Kleschna, and the rest of them—have a notable addition in Nance O'Brien, who is the girl in the red coat and "The Bishop's Carriage." Mr. Pollock's play, "In the Bishop's Carriage," is founded on that which was much-discussed book of the same name by Miriam Michelson.

MORE CAUTIOUS THAN IN THE CASE OF MOYER

Denver, Colo., Dec. 3.—The hearing on the application for requisition for George Jenkins, colored, wanted on the charge of murder committed in Tunica county, Mississippi, was had before Governor McDonald today. The governor was told that Jenkins might be lynched if taken back to Mississippi for trial and he sent a telegram to Governor Vardaman of Mississippi asking if he would guarantee Jenkins' protection and a fair trial if the requisition was granted. Governor McDonald intimated that his action in the matter would depend upon the character of Governor Vardaman's reply.
